A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF CHICKERING & SONS', BOARDMAN & GRAY'S, and other celebrated Pianos for sale at Manufacturers prices, which range from

$225 to $800

The decreasing demand for expensive Pianos of these Instruments has induced unprincipled men to counterfeit them, and many of their vile imitations are being offered for sale throughout the West.

To the purchaser, to guard the public against imposition would state that he is the only Agent in this City for Chickering & Sons and Boardman & Gray's Pianos and that he has the genuine article for sale.

The certificates of Agency can be seen at his Warerooms.

The L S & W Railroad—Contract Let to Columbus.

It gives us great pleasure to state that the Directors of the Milwaukee & Watertown Railroad Company yesterday let the contract for the extension of their road to Columbus, Columbia County, on very favorable terms, to be completed and in operation by the 1st of July 1856 The contractors are Messrs A & L Graham & Scott, men of large experience and ample means, who have already at work a large force of men and teams in the state and intend to put them at work immediately on this new job The contractors are to build a good substantial building masonry &c and the company to furnish the iron, and the cost of the whole is estimated will be not far from $18 000 per mile. This is usually regarded as a very low figure, and we congratulate the Company upon their success

The extension of the road between Oconomowoc and Watertown is nearly completed the iron for that part has all been purchased and is now on the way from New York—and the road will be open for business Watertown some time in August next It has already exceeded the sanguine expectations of its most sanguine friends in the amount of business which it has done, and every link added to it must largely increase the travel and trade which goes this avenue to our city

☞ Judge A D Smith of the Supreme Court of this State has gone to-day on his first visit to the City of New York He has worked hard for the last two years in the judicial harness and fairly earned his holiday We hope that he will have a good time and return refreshed and invigorated for the next term of the Supreme Court which commences at Madison on the 19th instant

FROM OUR NEW YORK CORRESPONDENT

NEW YORK, Friday June 29

The result of the Virginia election is ascertained, though the returns details Indeed, as enterprising daily newspaper enterprise—is understood in the Old Dominion it will be weeks probably before the details are ascertained and published But the fact of Mr Wise's election is certain and what does that success signify? For any good or hope, nothing—absolutely nothing Mr Wise is good Virginia, a representative man but [illegible] only of the Virginia men of the present day of his prejudices his passions his overweening conceit his [illegible] his vanity his idolatry of Virginia and his supreme and ignorant disdain of all other persons or interests, and especially of all [illegible] which prosper thro' free labor

Those may be possibly, among the sham democracy here who may be men in Wisconsin, tho' the same is also working up to the realities rather than the names of Liberty—opposing war the genius of which democrat, but really for no good to the country, or to any sound principle, or any sound consistent practice it would be very difficult to point out the benefit of such success to Virginia indeed Virginia politicians—of whatever shade or color, or designation, have but one sole interest—Slavery It is the corner stone of their public literally, and they act like leaders in Israel whatever feigned hips may say to the country—no real fellowship or sympathy with any who reject this corner stone—this is the great, the only political issue of the day and all who do not those U. States, is between Slavery and Freedom it is hardly conceivable that any interest in the free States such a contest as that one recently decided in Virginia which was, in fact, which party should be the more extreme for the defence and extension of slavery

I suppose the Missouri ruffians, who are, in a large way doing the free spirit of the North by [illegible] which even long habit of submissiveness [illegible] their outrages will hardly be able to endure with patience the triumph of Mr Wise as a [illegible] and it is somewhat akin to them, but the day of rocking is sure to come, and woe betide the wrong doer!

We have later dates from Europe, but as to the week's progress for the Allies, not any improvement appears as I can discover, in their position or prospects Talk indeed there is in the London press and European correspondence, of the [illegible] of plan and of the purpose of the Allies to [illegible] the covering Russian army, and to [illegible] as all the fortress which has so far resisted their efforts But for any such movement in the field the adequate preparations and means are not very obvious So far as regards a superiority in numbers for the double operation [illegible] the covering army has not been strengthened, nor is the cavalry arm especially does it seem likely to be attained Moreover, the Russians have been idle in preparing fieldworks and intrenchments for their positions, and troops by rail in the Crimea, difficult in itself to operate in has been rendered much more difficult by the recent [illegible]

The resignation—forced perhaps—of the French Commander-in-chief Canrobert, must strike the English people as significant [illegible] the commencement of the campaign the chief [illegible] has been in respect of both these commanders that [illegible] was manifest inadequacy to the station as has been proved against Lord Raglan the British commander Yet he holds a place and all the indignation of England against the gross mismanagement of the army and all its details overgrates [illegible] the aristocratic [illegible] which will uphold Lord Raglan at whatever cost of life and suffering to the plebian soldiery But no change of commander no [illegible] have any addition that can reasonably be made to the numbers and efficiency of the allied forces will avail to save them from almost [illegible]

Uneasiness is expressed in some quarters about the prospect of the coming harvest in Europe It is about proverbial, that it will be fearful scarcity—for with all our accumulated surplus, in the death of a unparalleled stroke, of which no considerable quantity is known to exist anywhere about stock in Europe would be terrific Hence the [illegible] motive for an agriculturalists everywhere to [illegible] the most they can of the time left for planting and to add wherever they can, not for one or two years, if possible, in corn or buckwheat or other crops, so as to have the largest [illegible] that can be had of cereal grains for the [illegible] and [illegible] the animals to the roots.

[illegible] for cows cool, and propitious [illegible] crops, for early hents and dry weather [illegible] them All looks well—may all so end!

New Lisbon, Adams County.

New Lis on Republican — We received yesterday the first number of a new paper by this name, published at New Lisbon, Adams County, by Robert B Rice and D A Bigelow It is Republican in politics and promises to be a useful and zealous champion of the good cause As soon as we had glanced at our new exchange we consulted the latest Map of Wisconsin, (that published this year) to find out what and where New Lisbon was But the map gave no sign or token of any such place Thereupon we fell back upon the paper, and from that we learn that New Lisbon is a young and vigorous town just springing up on the banks of the Lemonweir river, some 20 miles from its junction with the Wisconsin that last fall it could only boast of a saw mill and one dwelling but now it can count up three stores three taverns, five or six mechanics' shops a number of comfortable dwellings and fifty buildings, of various sorts to go up during the season, that it has a fine water power, a good farming country on every side several public roads leading to it, and the line of the La Crosse and Milwaukee R R passes directly through the town plat that it is fifty miles from Portage and 80 from La Crosse and must in a short time, be a town of considerable size and business importance and that in fact a great want of a newspaper being well provided its new[illegible] greatest needs are a good wagon maker and a boat maker, a dozen jour[illegible] a tin smith a shoemaker, and a good physician In short New Lisbon is a good sample of the way in which new towns and villages are springing up all over Wisconsin and is undoubtedly bound to thrive We object only to its name Why in the world did not its sponsors give it some one of the beautiful Indian names with which that part of our State abounds, and which would forever distinguish it from all other Lisbons, new or old, upon either side of the Atlantic? The new county, (of which New Lisbon is the geographical centre,) is to be called Juneau, all right Well why not call their county Lemonweir, or if not that, some other name, peculiar to the locality, and not common to a dozen or a hundred other towns, all over the Union?

PREPARING FOR THE FOURTH —The wide awake citizens of the neighboring village of Waukesha hold a meeting this week to make arrangements for celebrating the approaching National Holiday At Madison they are to have a grand Regatta on that day on Lake Monona, including sailing and rowing matches We hope some of our Milwaukee small craft will enter for the prizes

Speaking of the Fourth, cannot we, for once, get up a regular, old fashioned celebration in Milwaukee It is a reproach upon our public spirit and patriotism that we allow anniversary after anniversary of the Nation's Birthday to pass by, without even an attempt to do it honor We have all the elements for a grand celebration in our city—Military Companies Fire Department, Civic Associations, Musical Society &c &c A very brilliant procession might begin up at moderate expense to the Grove on Spring Street Hill where the immortal Declaration of Independence could be read, an appropriate oration delivered, fitting odes and choruses sung, and other exercises performed, concluding in the evening with a display of fireworks The whole expense could easily be provided for by subscription and the pageant would attract thousands of our country friends as well as delight thousands of our city denizens Shall it not be so?

HANDSOME COLT —We saw yesterday one of the handsomest two year old Colts in the State He belongs to Mr E C Sage, of this County, and has in his veins the mingled blood of Nonpareil and Messenger His broad chest, neat limbs, fine head and clean coat show both good blood and good grooming His weight is 956 pounds and Mr Sage declines to name any price for him.

POISONING A WELL —At the recent term of the Circuit Court in Walworth County, Enos Lonsdale was indicted for poisoning the well on the premises of Mr Stebbins, living near Whitewater, was tried, convicted, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the State Prison The apparent provocation to this piece of villainy was, that Lonsdale's wife had left him, on account of maltreatment and gone to live at Mr Stebbins

EVER BY INDEPENDENT —Mr James Denniston long connected with the Wisconsin Press has purchased this paper, and the first number under his editorial charge reached us yesterday Mr Denniston is a vigorous writer and a good thinker and very independent in his political views and action. He will make a first rate paper of the Independent and render good service to the Republican cause in Walworth County

ADAMS CO —MAPS WANTED —From the New Lisbon Republican, the first number of which we noticed elsewhere, we gather the following item concerning Adams county CHAPMAN, OF LAPHAM will have to get out a new map of our State every three months, to enable us to keep up with the times

The Wisconsin river divides the county through the centre, and the Yellow and Lemonweir and other rivers, emptying into it, afford vast water powers Quincy is the county seat a pretty town, near the geographical centre of the county on the east side of the Wisconsin river Among the other towns are Necedah, with two mills Germantown, Cascade, with two mills and 200 inhabitants, New Lisbon (mentioned elsewhere,) Mauston, a fine growing town, Dustin's Mill with two mills and a machine shop.

The county is well supplied with pine from the head waters of the rivers, and has rich soil It was organized in the winter of 1852, and now contains seven or eight thousand inhabitants — It is settled by the right kind of people, and is thoroughly Republican from the start

SPAIN —The Queen of Spain has signed the bill respecting ecclesiastical property, after many tears. She assured her ministers that it was against her conscience, but they quoted her by taking the responsibility on themselves alone Mr Perry, the American Charge, has announced the acceptance by the U S government of the proposed arrangement of the Black Warrior affair His note expresses, in the name of the President of the United States, the most friendly sentiments, and the hope that the conclusion of the affair will draw closer the relations between the two countries

VALUABLE BEQUEST —The Toronto Patriot states that a Scotchman, named WILLIAM MATHER, recently deceased left the bulk of his property, valued at $300 000 to be appropriated expressly for the purpose of diffusing useful knowledge among the institutions, libraries, clubs, or meetings for useful instruction of the working classes or manual laborers in the United States of America,

FOND DU LAC—WISCONSIN—THE CROPS.—A correspondent of the Albany Register, who has just been making his first visit to Wisconsin, writes a letter from Fond du Lac, under date of May 28th from which we take one or two extracts

The city itself of Fond du Lac is one of the most flourishing of the inland towns of Wisconsin Its situation is regarded and perhaps justly so, as peculiarly fortunate Winnebago Lake is navigable for most all kinds of crafts, and hence Fond du Lac is really the head of navigation for terminus of importance As the country grows older, and its ample resources are developed this importance cannot well grow less

* * * * *

Speaking of good fare, reminds me of the good appetite one gets, up here in the North, where they have this fact, bealdy, bracing atmosphere And there is plenty here to eat—fish in abundance and game and flour only six dollars and a half a barrel Think of that and weep! Good potatoes can be had also for 35 cents a bushel I have come to the conclusion that there is nothing like having an appetite and plenty of good provisions to appease it with—being quite as good as "laughing" to make one "grow fat"

Wisconsin is certainly a beautiful and at no distant day must be one of the richest of States It contains lands of all kinds—prairie level, and rolling prairie and heavy timbered—and is better watered than any other part of the West which I have ever visited It abounds in beautiful clear lakes of pure clear water, filled with good fish the banks of which, covered with oak openings, furnish sites for residences such as the rural judges of beauty would pronounce unsurpassed Hon John B Macy, M C, from this district owns a beautiful farm three miles from the city containing within its borders on of these lovely lakes, upon which he has an elegant sail boat The grounds surrounding are exceedingly beautiful and picturesque and it is but a brief space of time since he commenced the work of improvement Ex Gov Tallmadge owns seven hundred acres adjoining and lives in a gothic modern mansion, in the midst of an extensive park grove There are many situations of a like character in all the surrounding country Men of capital here, seem to know how to enjoy life in a sensible manner

But I have talked too much and will stop instanter after saying that crops look well and if rain falls soon, will be bountiful There is now a good prospect of getting rain, and everybody is hoping for it

Yours, C

INFLUENCE OF THE LADIES —It now appears that the large majority (110) in the House of Lords, in favor of Lord PALMERSTON, on Lord LYNDHURST'S motion of want of confidence, was attributable to the Ladies On the next day the following dialogue occurred.

LADIES IN THE HOUSE

Lord Redesdale called attention to the fact that on the previous evening ladies had occupied portions of the House to which they were not properly admissible to the great prejudice of the general appearance of the House [Oh, oh, and laughter] That House was a place for debate, and although it was on the previous evening surrounded by that which was most beautiful, still it did not look more like a casino, [loud laughter] and was very disadvantageous to debate and discussion [Oh oh] A noble earl had expressed to him his unwillingness to speak because he was surrounded by an audience of that kind. [Oh oh and laughter] The admission of ladies to the pits of the House they had occupied the previous evening was contrary to the orders of the House and was be trusted, an irregularity which would not be repeated

Earl Granville—I remember seeing a French farce in which an English "milor" was the principal personage and in which he objected to the presence of ladies at dinner, because they were displeasing to his eyes. I never knew the original of that English "milor" (laughter) I must also add that I believe all your lordships had not had the advantage which my noble friend seems to possess by the acquaintance of casinos, of enjoying those views of the female sex which he now wishes to deprive this house of (great laughter) However, I accept his observations as a very satisfactory reason why some of the speeches on the opposite side of the house were, in the opinion of those on this side, less effective than they sometimes are

Sailing of the Arctic Expedition.

The propeller Arctic and the bark Release, forming the expedition to go in search of Dr Kane and his companions, who sailed in 1852 for the purpose of obtaining some information concerning the fate of Sir John Franklin and his companions in search of a north west passage, took their departure for the Arctic Seas, yesterday afternoon, from their anchorage off the Brooklyn Navy Yard They will anchor at Sandy Hook and remain a few days to afford time for adjusting their compasses and make other preparations of a similar character, for their long, and but for the noble mission on which they are destined, great cheerless voyage

As the hour of sailing arrived, the Navy Yard wharves were lined with spectators, and among those many ladies who had come to bid farewell to gallant spirits, who, perhaps, may never again be greeted by their smiles

Everything being in readiness, the Arctic having steam up, hoisted the anchor and moved forward of the Release to which a hawser was extended that she might be towed down the bay The Release then hoisted her anchor and cast off the line by which her stern was moored to the dock near by, and the gallant vessels and their noble crews were under way! As they moved swiftly down, propelled by steam and tide, the sailors on board, the North Carolina manned the yards and sent up cheer after cheer, in which those on the wharves frequently joined The cheers of the departing vessels replied with cheer upon cheer till their voices were lost in the distance As they passed down the bay they attracted great attention, and the heartiest wishes for success in the noble undertaking, and a safe and speedy return to all, were expressed on every side

These vessels have been fitted out with all the care and skill that experience and science could command Their strength has been largely increased, and every arrangement has been made to secure the comfort of those on board during a long and intensely cold winter within the Arctic Circle We annex a list of their officers

Officers of the Bark Release—Henry J Hartstene Lieutenant-Commanding, William L Lovell Acting Master Joseph P Fyfe, Passed Midshipman—Edwin K Kane, Assistant Surgeon—Van Rensselaer Hall, Boatswain.

Officers of the Propeller Arctic—Charles C. Simms, Lieutenant Command ng, Watson Smith Acting Master, Harman Newell Engineer; Samuel Whiting Acting Boatswain.

On Monday H Grinnell, Esq, presented the officers of the expedition with a set of maps, charts and views of the Arctic discoveries up to 1851, which he had received by the last steamer from Captain Inglefield, and John Barrow, Secretary of the British Admiralty The following is the note from the Secretary of the Admiralty to Mr Grinnell

I almost fear the expedition will have sailed before this reaches you, but I send the enclosed on the chance. One is the chart on which Captain Inglefield has made some notes which may be useful—the other is the Arctic papers, which contain the brief summary of his voyage up to Smith's Sound, which I have not previously sent I think I will know in what other way I could be of any service to the expedition Wishing them all the success they deserve, and that they may return with Dr Kane and his party in the Autumn, I remain yours faithfully

JOHN BARROW

At the request of Lady Franklin, who was unable to have a suitable tablet prepared in England to send out by this expedition, Mr Grinnell has caused the following inscription to be engraved on a handsome tablet of white marble, 2 feet 3 inches by 5 feet, which will be erected on Beechy Island

FRANKLIN AND CROZIER FITZJAMES,
And all their gallant brother officers and faithful companions, who have suffered and perished in the cause of Science and the service of their country,
THIS TABLET
Is erected near the spot where they passed their first Arctic Winter, and whence they issued forth to conquer difficulties or to die It commemorates the grief of their admiring countrymen and friends and the anguish, subdued by faith, of her who long lost in the heroic leader of the expedition the most devoted and affectionate of husbands

And so He brought them unto the haven where they would 1855

This stone has been entrusted to be affixed in this place by the officers and crew of the American Expedition, commanded by Lieut H J Hartstein, in search of Dr. Kane and his party

Concert on Thursday.

Our readers will be glad to hear that the unrivalled PARODI is to give a Concert in this city tomorrow (Thursday) evening, in which she will introduce some of the finest gems of the Modern Opera Those who had the pleasure of hearing PARODI, three years ago will need no other inducement than the recollection of that Concert, to go again to-morrow To others a brief sketch of Parodi may not be uninteresting

She has but lately returned from Europe, after a successful tour, is only twenty-eight years of age, and in the full ripeness of her wonderful powers and cannot fail to enchant all who come within the influence of her vocal session

PARODI was born in Genoa, of humble but respectable parents, who were but recently still living In early life she gave evidence of possessing vocal powers of a very rare order and sought instruction of the celebrated PASTA, then already retired from a career which few singers have equalled That famous vocalist, the "Queen of Song" at once became highly interested in and warmly attached to her young pupil, whose future eminence she foresaw and predicted The qualities of the young PARODI'S voice resembled closely those of her renowned teacher, and here was also a striking similarity in their personal appearance After twelve months of application to her studies, under such preceptorship, PARODI had made such progress in the acquisition of the higher principles of the noble art, that Madame PASTA gave her dismissal, assuring her that she possessed a voice that was calculated to raise her to the highest position in the sphere which had been marked out for her, and encourage the young adventurer by the kindest expressions — Her first appearance in Italian Opera was at Bergamo, during an annual fair, and there her success was such as at once to create the greatest enthusiasm throughout Italy From Bergamo she went by invitation, to Verona and her former triumph was confirmed, and the fame of the new singer spread still further and created still higher interest among the dilletanti of that country, famous for its appreciation and culture of music

From Italy she went to Paris and London, where her fame had preceded her and where her performances justified that fame

She will be assisted on this occasion by Madame PATTI STRAKOSCH of whom many of our readers must entertain agreeable recollections, by new baritone singer, M LEONARDI, and by MAJOR STRAKOSCH, of whose qualities as a Pianist we need not speak.

MRS MACREADY—LAST NIGHT—MRS. MACREADY will give one more and positively the last of the Dramatic Entertainments at Young's Hall this evening, introducing an entire new programme and selections from favorite plays. She will be assisted by Madame JACOBI and Mons MARACHAL, both excellent vocalists — Those who fail to be present this evening will miss a rare treat, such as is seldom indeed offered to our citizens We hope that Mrs MACREADY who is a most deserving and delightful artist, will be greeted to-night by a full house. —[Janesville Free Press

FINE FLEECES —We have received from Mr. E M DANFORTH, of Summit, Waukesha Co, two handsome fleeces of wool, recently sheared from sheep, belonging to flocks advertised by him as from the flocks of G. Campbell of Vermont. One of them is pure Spanish, bred by Mr Campbell—the other Silesian, imported by him Mr Danforth states that he has 150 fleeces from his flock of ewes, which will average well up to the Spanish, in quality He will have about 2000 lbs of wool for sale, and think that buyers are not likely to find a better lot in the State

The fleeces may be seen at our office

THE PRISONERS FOR WAUPUN —Sheriff Conover left yesterday morning for Waupun having in his custody, for delivery at the State Prison, eight prisoners sentenced at the last term of Court Three prisoners were discharged from the jail yesterday morning, leaving in jail at noon yesterday but twelve prisoners, this is the least number that has been in jail within two and a half years

FIREMEN'S PARADE.—The Annual Parade and Inspection of our Milwaukee Fire Department—the ornament and defence of our City—takes place this afternoon The line will be formed on Wisconsin Street at half past 1 o'clock, and then they will be reviewed by the Mayor & Common Council. Some of the Companies will appear in brand new rig and altogether the show will be a handsome one After the Review we suppose that the several Companies will, as usual, try their hands at spouting

DOG CHILD —A little girl, between six and seven years of age, rather poorly dressed and calling herself Laura Lyons, or Jones, was found on the Fifth Ward, yesterday afternoon and kindly cared for by HENRY Kroeger, the Ice-man She states that she lives "in the country," and goes to the "English School" there She may be found at Kroeger's in the Fifth Ward

CRICKET —The weekly meeting of the Milwaukee Cricket Club for practice takes place this afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Officers are to be chosen for the year All persons desirous of joining the Club are invited to be present on the field during the afternoon

DOESTICKS —The new book of "Doesticks" is advertised with us to day. We observe that Mr Thompson, the writer of these singular sketches of men and things, denies, over his own signature, that he is dead

CHANGE OF TIME —A change of hours on the Milwaukee & Mississippi Railroad, will be noticed in the advertisement, as well as the connections and fare through from Madison and Janesville to Chicago The travel is increasing very rapidly on the road

PIC NIC.—The children of the German Free School, in the Second Ward, were treated to a pic nic, yesterday afternoon, in the pleasure grounds near Dr WENDELL'S residence, in the Fifth Ward. They marched down, preceded by a band of music, between one and two o'clock and no doubt had a pleasant time.

QUICKEST TRIP YET —The propeller Fox est City Capt HARVEY PERRITT, arrived yesterday at about noon from Buffalo, with a full cargo of merchandize, having made the round trip from this port to Buffalo and back, in ten and a half days! She carried down a full cargo of fish, and of course her running time is less by he time occupied in discharging and loading cargo. Capt PERRITT, however, astonished the Buffalonians by his expedition in these operations

PROP. NIAGARA —The prop Niagara which left in Presque Isle Bay on the rocks all winter, came in from Buffalo yesterday, and landed some 200 tons merchandize She has been thoroughly refitted, and newly painted, and looks "as neat as a new pin."

FOR GREEN BAY —The steamer Clevela d, Capt GREEN, will leave our port for Green Bay, touching at Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers, thus (Wednesday) evening, from Kellogg & Strong's Pier

THEATRE.—LYNN & VAN LINN'S VARIETY is doors not open to-night, as has been announced. The opening is necessarily postponed till Saturday evening

A GOOD HORSE FOR SALE —The well known horse PAT is to be sold at auction by CRAMPTON, to-morrow

BIG PATRONS.—Three loads of wheat bought in milling this morning, brought $1,55 per bush [illegible] —[Madison Dem, June 4,

SMALL MERCIFUL.—Both the Milwaukee and Kenosha papers, in speaking of the guests at the Railroad opening, mention the names of all the prominent guests save that of our Mayor, Geo Wurstum Mr Wurstum was is, perhaps too much of a gentleman to be understood or appreciated by the reporters of the papers concerned but even the respect due the city of Racine might have had weight enough to dictate a different line of conduct Wealth and station usually have some weight with such men but in this case their hatred of dutchmen is stronger than their love of toadyism —[Racine Democrat.

We mentioned that several of the city officers," and some of the leading citizens naming one or two with whom we were personally acquainted took passage with us at Racine We don't know Mr Wurstum"—never heard of "Mr, Wurstum"—and nobody who possesses common sense could suppose that any disrespect was intended to the gentleman It would be quite fun to retort upon our courteous neighbor that his love of "dutchmen" is stronger than his love of decency

FAMINE IN LOWER CANADA —The editor of the Montreal Commercial Advertiser has been shown letters from ministers and others, both in the eastern and western town ships which described the unmitigated of want existing among all classes, from scarcity of breadstuffs as frightful in the extreme In some parts scurvy has made its appearance

THE ELECTION IN VIRGINIA —Many high minded and conservative whigs voted for Mr Wise in the late election to express their deep and heartily disapprobation of such bound secret political societies They would gladly have joined in any open and honorable movement against the junto at Richmond which has so long ruled Virginia, nor could they have had much respect for the political or personal character of Mr Wise — They found themselves in a position which required them to vote for a democrat, or to sanction a movement hostile alike to personal and religious liberty, and they sacrificed a private feeling at the call of public duty A letter received by us from Virginia previous to the election, prepared us for this, and the result has confirmed its predictions —[Boston Atlas

DESTRUCTIVE FROST —The severe frosts of Saturday and Sunday nights extend d west as far as Rockford, and south over one hundred miles In Southern Wisconsin and No thern Illinois no serious damage was done to the corn or wheat — The corn was cut down but as it was only a short distance above ground will grow up again, while wheat was not headed out, and therefore not sufficiently advanced to be in danger But vegetables, especially of the melon species were entirely ruined In Northern Indiana, and fifty or sixty miles south of this where corn was more advanced than hereabout and where winter wheat was headed out, we fear the effects of the frost will be very serious. We have not grown where badly wilted, and apparently ruined by June frost and yet turn out well—but corn after it has jointed cannot recover from the effects of a severe frost, such as visited us on Saturday and Sunday nights —[Chicago Tribune of yesterday

SUGAR RIVER VALLEY R R —The charter members of the Sugar River Rail Road met at Attica May 26th They held another meeting at Albany on the 21st instant when the Stock Books will be opened and it is expected a sufficient amount of stock will be taken to enable the company to organize permanently

The Sugar River Valley for beauty and fertility is not surpassed by any valley in the State — The Sugar River is one of the best mill streams in the west, having now in operation seven flouring mills between its source and the contemplated crossing of the S W R R a distance of about thirty miles

The Sugar River Valley Rail Road when completed will secure to the Southern Wisconsin Road and to Milwaukee, the business of this valley, which now finds its way to Chicago over the Beloit and Madison Rail Road W —[Janesville Free Press

HOW HE FELT —During the last trip of the steamer Mediator from Cincinnati, one of the deck hands fell overboard in the Mississippi but by swimming and floating kept himself above water till the yawl reached him On regaining the boat one of the passengers asked him "Well, Pat how did you feel? while you were struggling for life in the river?" "Divil a thing did I feel or wish for at all at all unless indeed it was that getting so wet outside made me mighty dry within, and that it was the likes of yourself I'd like to ask for the whiskey to mix with the water had luck to it that went down my throat" The passengers laughed. Pat got his half dollar for the reply, and half an hour after was seen carrying from the bar a considerable sized tin cup, the odor proceeding from which partook strongly of Red Eye —[St Louis Dem

THE CROPS —We hear from all sections of this State that the grain crops are most promising The recent plentiful rains which have extended from Galena to the southern extremity, were most timely as they were much needed Along the route of the Chicago and Burlington Rail road, the wheat is most luxuriant, and the prospects of a large harvest most flattering Corn too looks well, though the season is rather late It is estimated that a fourth more land has been sown than in any former year

We, also, learn that the prospects of the wheat and corn crops were never better in Iowa The large accession to its population last year have become producers, and the surplus this year will be heavy.—[Chicago Democrat, June 5

METEOROLOGICAL SYNOPSIS FOR MAY 1855 —Barometer stood highest on the 10th 29,34 in " lowest 21st 28 57 " Average for month 28 02 " Thermometer stood highest on the 20th 88° " lowest 17th 45° Average for month 62° Rain fell on five days of the month Amount in inches, 4 43 The prevailing winds were the North East and South East UNIVERSITY —[Madison Democrat June 4th

COMFORT FOR THE PRESIDENT —The Missouri Democrat compliments the President after the following fashion

Gen Jackson said that he would hang Mr Calhoun if an overt act of treason was committed by the South Carolina nullifiers The Mormon nullifiers, under the lead of Mr Aitchison, have committed an act of treason by trampling on the laws of the United States, and by actually "waging war" against the United States authorities in Kansas, by invading and subjugating that Territory. General Pierce, instead of doing what Gen. Jackson would have done under the circumstances, has only fainted

FIRST MADISON REGATTA —We learn that arrangements are about completed for a Regatta on Third Lake, to take place on the coming Fourth of July Some twenty boats are already entered for the prizes Several handsome stakes are up, and brisk competition for them may be expected. A good time generally is anticipated The official announcement of particulars will be made in a few days —[Madison Democrat

ALL RIGHT —From "prospecting parties" who have just returned from Jackson, Monroe, Buffalo, and other counties east and north, we learn that new Settlers are spotting about in all directions, and what is equally gratifying large numbers of young men from the east, are on the ground, selecting most desirable and beautiful farm sites for their future homes There is no mistake, that with young men from New England, our Section of Wisconsin is an especial favorite —[La Crosse Democrat, May 30th

BUSINESS OF THE CITY —We have never seen business of all kinds, except the grain and pork trade, so active as it is now. Our merchants have all brought in heavy stocks of goods The whole country has learned this from the Free Press, and our streets are thronged with teams, and our merchants with customers — Our city is full of strangers from the East, looking for residences, which of course tend to obtain Every body is busy, and trade is active — [Janesville Free Press.

LA CROSSE & MILWAUKEE RAILROAD —A public meeting was held at Beaver Dam, on Wednesday last, to take into consideration the extension of the Milwaukee & La Crosse Railroad to Noyes' Corner and Beaver Dam, the coming fall. The meeting was ably addressed by Dr Juno and Mr CHAMPION, when it was resolved to adjourn, to meet again at the same place, on Saturday afternoon, June 3d, at 2 o'clock — Fox Lake Times

MORE OF 'EM —Hon W J Gibson, and Hon C A. Stevens arrived in La Crosse, direct from Madison, on Saturday On their way hither, they say they counted one hundred and seven Emigrant teams headed this way, between Baraboo and Sparta, and fifty-six this side of Sparta What's coming beyond, we have no evidence to guess upon, but the line stretches across the State—something of a way!—La Crosse Democrat, May 30th

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL —We have had heavy and most acceptable rains during the past week, but on Saturday evening last, J FROST, Esq, who left town a short time ago, returned just in time to "take a nip" at all green things He nipped pretty much everything in our garden, except an old wheelbarrow that stood near the house, in the shade —[Waukesha Plaindealer, June 4

MARRIED EXTRAORDINARY —Tom Thumb, the celebrated little great man, was married on Thursday last to a Miss Vinton, of Bridgeport Conn —[Providence Post.

CROPS IN JEFFERSON COUNTY N Y —A correspondent of the Rome N Y Sentinel, writing from Watertown, under date of May 28th, says.

The farmers hereabouts look sad and hopeless with regard to the prospects of the next harvest After three years of unprecedented drought, they had hoped for a productive season Present prospects are decidedly discouraging The earth is parched and baked thus early, and the spring crops thus far look unpromising There is this year a fearful amount of emigration to the West, and unless better success attends the labors of the coming summer, an immense emigration may be anticipated for 1856.

THE STORM —VESSELS WRECKED —LIVES LOST —The storm of last week proves to have been disastrous at this end of the lake. The only wreck which occasioned loss of life was that of the schooner Experiment, which capsized on Friday night near St Joseph, to which place she was going after a cargo The vessel turned bottom upward and Capt Jennings, her master and two sailors named Lee Livingston and P Bratton were washed overboard and lost

The wife of Capt. Judson W Napier, his son about fourteen years old, another child, about a year old, and a miller named Prosser, were in the cabin The three persons managed to keep their heads above the water in the cabin by clinging to the berths but the child was drowned

They were in this situation sixteen hours, during which time the vessel drifted ashore near St Joseph and Capt Scot., of the schooner Sutherland with other want to the wreck and hearing voices in it cut a hole through the planking, and rescued the party of survivors — The Experiment was owned by J E Stevens, of St Joseph.—[Ohicago Dem. The News.

The telegraph brings us news that a sort of righteous retribution has overtaken a couple of [illegible] Gail Pierce's happy family' at Washington. The Private Secretary and Col Forney have been [illegible] Clair Flats on their way to Lake Superior in the steamer Knowles. We only wish that the sufferer was Gen Lane instead and that he might be kept there at least a month all summer

[illegible] Hall M Perry—who since the close of his [illegible] Senate returned from [illegible] to Washington, and [illegible] the Back Water [illegible] —has [illegible] Of course he [illegible] could be expected of such an Administration Now let us see what "Honest Old Zach" Lieutenant General Dodge [illegible]

The Chicago & North Western Railroad—Contract Let to Columbus.

It gives us much pleasure to state that the Directors of the Milwaukee & Watertown Railroad Company yesterday let the contract for the extension of their road to Columbus, Columbia County, on very favorable terms, to be completed and in operation by the 1st of July 1856 The contractors are Messrs A & L Graham & Scott, men of large experience and ample means, who have entered into a heavy force of men and teams in our city and intend to put them at work immediately. [illegible] upon this new job The contractors are [illegible] bridging bridging masonry &c and the whole [illegible] to furnish the iron, and the cost of the [illegible] will be not far from $18 000 per [illegible] usually regarded as a very large [illegible] and we congratulate the Company upon their success

The [illegible] on the road between Oconomowoc and Watertown is nearly completed the iron for it [illegible] has all been purchased and is now on the way from New York—and the road will be open for cars Waterto[illegible] some time in August next. It has already exceeded the [illegible] of the most sanguine friends as to the amount of business it [illegible] and every link added to it must largely increase the travel and trade which [illegible] this avenue to our city

He has worked hard for the last two years in the judicial harness and fairly earned a holiday We hope that he will have a good time and return refreshed and invigorated for the next term of the Supreme Court which commences at Madison on the 19th instant

The result of the Virginia election is accurately and [illegible] details Indeed, as enterprising [illegible] newspaper enterprise—is understood in the Old Dominion it will be weeks probably before the details are ascertained and published But the fact of Mr Wise's election is certain and what does that success signify? For any good or hope, nothing—absolutely nothing. Mr Wise is proud Virginia, a representative man but representative only of the Virginia of the present day—of his prejudices his passions—his overweening conceit—his pecuniary vanity—his idolatry of Virginia and his supreme and ignorant disdain of all other people or interests, and especially of all of [illegible] which prosperity thro' free labor

Those may be possibly, among the sham democracy—here may be men in Wisconsin, who [illegible] by working up to the realities rather than the [illegible] of Liberty—rejoicing over the success of such a "democrat," but, really for any good to the country, or to any sound principle, or a consistent and consistent practice it would be very difficult to point out the benefit of such success to [illegible] Virginia politicians—of whatever shade, color, or designation, have taken sole interest—Slavery It is the corner stone of their Republic, literally, and they acknowledge it [illegible] whatever feigned lips may [illegible] the contrary—no real fellowship or sympathy [illegible] who reject this corner stone—this [illegible] ground, the only political issue of the day and at present about the U. States, is between Slavery and Freedom It is hardly conceivable that [illegible] can be fit by the Free States to [illegible] contest as that one recently decided in Virginia [illegible] which party [illegible] the most extreme for the defence and [illegible] of Slavery

It appears the Missouri ruffians, who are in a [illegible] going the free spirit of the North by [illegible] and [illegible] even long habit of submissiveness [illegible] our gees will hardly be able to endure [illegible] in the triumph of Mr Wise. [illegible] organization is somewhat akin to them, but [illegible] by a reckoning is sure to come, and woe betide the wrong doer!

We have later dates from Europe, but as to the [illegible] progress for the Allies, nor any improvement [illegible] can discover, in their position or prospect Talk indeed there is in the London [illegible] and European correspondence, [illegible] and [illegible] end of and purpose of the Allies [illegible] the covering Russian army, and [illegible] turn to use all the fortress which has [illegible] material their efforts But for any such movement in the field the adequate preparations [illegible] not very obvious So far as [illegible] superiority in numbers for the double [illegible] regarding the trenches and attack [illegible] the covering army has not been strengthened, nor is the cavalry arm especially does it seem likely to be attained Moreover, the Russians [illegible] idle in preparing field-works and [illegible] for their positions, and the country in the Crimea, difficult in itself to operate in has [illegible] rendered much more difficult by the [illegible] of rain So that I see no reason for believing that the Allied armies can escape from the Chersonese—much less triumph there

The [illegible] enforced perhaps—of the French Commander-in-chief Canrobert, must strike the English people as significant Twice since the commencement of the campaign the allied army has [illegible] on each occasion a French officer yet in respect of both these commanders there was no manifest [illegible] to the station as has been proved against Lord Raglan the British commander Yet he holds his place and all the indignation of England against [illegible] mismanagement of the army as it [illegible] rests before the aristocratic parliamentary [illegible] will uphold Lord Raglan at whatever cost of life and suffering to the plebeian soldiery But no change of commander no [illegible] have any addition that can reasonably be made to the numbers and efficiency of the allied [illegible] will avail to save them from ultimate defeat and ruin

Dissatisfaction is expressed to some quarters about the prospect of the coming harvest in Europe It is [illegible] prove deficient, there will be [illegible] for suffering—not with all our anticipated surplus, in the [illegible] of accumulated stocks, of which no considerable quantity is known to exist anywhere a short crop in Europe would be terrific Hence the great motive for our agriculturalists everywhere [illegible] the most they can of the time between [illegible] end to end wherever they can, and [illegible] if possible, in corn or buckwheat or even rice, so as to have the largest [illegible] to be had of cereal grains for the [illegible] to the animals to the roots.

[illegible] for most part, and propitious [illegible] crops, for early heats and dry weather [illegible] them All looks well—many [illegible]

New Lisbon, Adams County.

New Lisbon Republican—We received yesterday the first number of a new paper by this name, published at New Lisbon Adams County, by Robert B Rice and D A Bigelow It is Republican in politics and promises to be a useful and zealous champion of the good cause As soon as we had glanced at our new exchange we consulted the latest Map of Wisconsin, (that published this year) to find out what and where New Lisbon was But the map gave no sign or token of any such place Thereupon we fell back upon the paper, and from that we learn that New Lisbon is a young and vigorous town just springing up on the banks of the Lemon weir river, some 20 miles from its junction with the Wisconsin that last fall it could only boast of a saw mill and one dwelling but now it can count up three stores three taverns five or six mechanics' shops a number of comfortable dwellings, and fifty buildings, of various sorts to go up during the season, that it has a fine water power, a good farming country on every side several public roads leading to it, and the line of the La Crosse and Milwaukee R R passes directly through the town plat that it is fifty miles from Portage and 80 from La Crosse and must in a short time, be a town of considerable size & business importance and that itself a great want of a newspaper being well provided its messengest needs are a good wagon maker a cabinet maker, a doctor joiners a tin smith a shoemaker, and a good physician In short New Lisbon is a good sample of the way in which new towns and villages are springing up all over Wisconsin and is undoubtedly bound to thrive We object only to the name Why in the world did not its sponsors give it some one of the beautiful Indian names with which that part of our State abounds, and which would forever distinguish it from all other Lisbons new or old, upon either side of the Atlantic? The new county, (of which New Lisbon is the geographical centre,) is to be called Juneau, all right Well why not call their county town Lemonweir, or if not that, some other name, peculiar to the locality, and not common to a dozen or a hundred other towns, all over the Union?

Preparing for the Fourth—The wide awake citizens of the neighboring village of Waukesha hold a meeting this week to make arrangements for celebrating the approaching National Holiday At Madison they are to have a grand Regatta on that day on Lake Monona, including sailing and rowing matches We hope some of our Milwaukee small craft will enter for the prizes

Speaking of the Fourth, cannot we, for once, get up a regular, old fashioned celebration in Milwaukee It is a reproach upon our public spirit and patriotism that we allow anniversary after anniversary of the Nation's Birthday to pass by, without even an attempt to do it honor We have all the elements for a grand celebration in our city—Military Companies Fire Department, Civic Associations, Musical Society &c &c A very brilliant procession might be got up at moderate expense to the Grove on Spring Street Hill, where the immortal Declaration of Independence could be read, an appropriate oration delivered, fitting odes and choruses sung, and other exercises performed, concluding in the evening with a display of fireworks The whole expense could easily be provided for by subscription and the pageant would attract thousands of our country friends as well as delight thousands of our city denizens Shall it not be so?

Handsome Colt—We saw yesterday one of the handsomest two year old Colts in the State He belongs to Mr E C Cragg, of this County, and has in his veins the mingled blood of Nevada and Messenger His broad chest, neat limbs, fine head and clean cut shoulders both good blood and good grooming His weight is 950 pounds and Mr Cragg declines to name any price for him.

Poisoning a Well—At the recent term of the Circuit Court in Walworth County, Elias Lon[illegible] indicted for poisoning the well on the premises of Mr Stebbins, living near Whitewater, was tried, convicted, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the State Prison The apparent provocation to this piece of villainy was, that Long' wife had left him, on account of maltreatment and gone to live at Mr Stebbins

Eider on Independent—Mr James Denmead long connected with the Wisconsin Press has purchased this paper, and the first number under his editorial charge reached us yesterday Mr Dawstone is a vigorous writer an[illegible] thinker and very independent in his political views and action. He will make a fine paper of the Independent and render good service to the Republican cause in Walworth County

Adams Co—Maps Wanted—From the New Lisbon Republican, the first number of which is noticed elsewhere, we gather the following item concerning Adams county Chapman, or Lapham will have to get out a new map of our State every three months, to enable us to keep up with the times

The Wisconsin river divides the county through the centre, and the Yellow and Lemonweir and other rivers, emptying into it, afford vast water powers Quincy is the county seat a pretty town, near the geographical centre of the county on the east side of the Wisconsin river Among the other towns are Necedah, with two mills Germantown, Cascade, with two mills and 200 inhabitants, New Lisbon (mentioned elsewhere,) Manston, a fine growing town, Dustin's Mill with two mills and a machine shop.

The county is well supplied with pine from the head waters of the rivers, and has rich soil It was organized in the winter of 1852, and now contains seven or eight thousand inhabitants — It is settled by the right kind of people, and is thoroughly Republican from the start

Spain—The Queen of Spain has signed the bill respecting ecclesiastical property, after many tears. She assured her ministers that it was against her conscience, but they quoted her by taking the responsibility on themselves alone Mr Perry, the American Charge, has announced the acceptance by the U S government of the proposed arrangement of the Black Warrior affair His notes expresses, in the name of the President of the United States, the most friendly sentiments, and the hope that the conclusion of the affair will draw closer the relations between the two countries

Valuable Bequest—The Toronto Patriot states that a Scotchman, named William Mathewe recently deceased left the bulk of his property, valued at $300 000 to be appropriated expressly for the purpose of diffusing useful knowledge among the institutions, libraries, clubs, or meetings for useful instruction of the working classes or mannal laborers in the United States of America.

born at Lac—Wisconsin—The Crisis—A correspondent of the Albany Register, who has just been making his first visit to Wisconsin, writes a letter from Fond du Lac, under date of May 28th from which we take one or two extracts

The city itself of Fond du Lac is one of the most flourishing of the inland towns of Wisconsin Its situation is regarded, and perhaps justly so, as peculiarly fortunate Winnebago Lake is navigable for most all kinds of crafts, and hence Fond du Lac is really the head of navigation for terminus of importance As the country grows older, and its ample resources are developed this importance cannot well grow less

* * * *

Speaking of good fare, reminds me of the good appetite one gets, up here in the North, where they have this fine, healthy, bracing atmosphere And there is plenty here to eat—fish in abundance and game and flour only six dollars and a half a barrel! Think of that and weep! Good potatoes can be had also for 25 cents a bushel I have come to the conclusion that there is no thing like having an appetite and plenty of good provisions to appease it with—being quite as good as "laughing" to make one "grow fat"

Wisconsin is certainly a beautiful and at no distant day must be one of the richest of States It contains lands of all kinds—prairie level, and rolling, timber and heavy timbered—and is better watered than any other part of the West which I have visited Lakes and streams beautiful as the Lakes of pure clear water, filled with fish, fish the banks of which, covered with oak openings, furnish sites for residences such as the rich judges of beauty would pronounce unsurpassed Hon John F Macy, M C, from this District, owns a beautiful farm three miles from the city containing within its borders one of these lovely lakes, upon which he has an elegant sail boat The grounds surrounding, are exceedingly beautiful and yet nature did it all. It is but a brief space of time since he commenced the work of improvement Ex Gov Tallmadge owns seven hundred acres adjoining and lives in a gothic modern mansion in the midst of an extensive oak grove There are many situations of a like character in all the surrounding country Men of capital here, seem to know how to enjoy life in a sensible manner

But I have talked too much and will stop instanter after saying that crops look well and if rain [illegible] will be bountiful There is now a good prospect of getting rain, and everybody is hoping for it

Yours, C

Influence of the Ladies—It now appears that the large majority (110) in the House of Lords, in favor of Lord Palmerston, on Lord Lyndhurst's motion of want of confidence, was attributable to the Ladies On the next day the following dialogue occurred.

LADIES IN THE HOUSE

Lord Redesdale called attention to the fact that on the previous evening ladies had occupied portions of the House to which they were not properly admissible to the great prejudice of the general appearance of the House [Oh, oh, and laughter] That House was a place for debate, and although it was on the previous evening surrounded by that which was most beautiful, still it made it look more like a casino, [loud laughter] and was very disadvantageous to debate and discussion [Oh oh] A noble earl had expressed to him his unwillingness to speak because he was surrounded by an audience of that kind. [Oh, oh and laughter] The admission of ladies to the pits of the House they had occupied the previous evening was contrary to the orders of the House and was he trusted, an irregularity which would not be repeated

Earl Granville—I remember seeing a French farce in which an English 'milor' was the principal personage and in which he objected to the presence of ladies at dinner, because they were displeasing to his eyes. I never knew the original of that English 'milor' (laughter) I must also add that I believe all your lordships had not had the advantage which my noble friend seems to possess by the frequentation of casinos, of enjoying those views of the female sex which he now wishes to deprive this house of (great laughter) However, I accept his observations as a very satisfactory reason why some of the speeches on the opposite side of the house were, in the opinion of those on this side, less effective than they sometimes are

The propeller Arctic and the barque Release, forming the expedition to go in search of Dr Kane and his companions, who sailed in 1853, for the purpose of obtaining some information concerning the fate of Sir John Franklin and his companions in search of a north west passage, took their departure for the Arctic Seas, yesterday afternoon, from their anchorage off the Hedgelyn Navy Yard They will anchor at Sandy Hook and remain a few days to afford time for adjusting their compasses and make other preparations of a similar character for their long, and but for the noble mission on which they are destined, most cheerless voyage

As the hum of sailing arrived, the Navy Yard wharves were lined with spectators, and among them many ladies who had come to bid farewell to gallant spirits, who, perhaps, may never again be greeted by their smiles

Everything being in readiness, the Arctic having steam up, hoisted the anchor and moved forward of the Release to which a hawser was extended that she might be towed down the bay The Release then hoisted her anchor and cast off the line by which her steam was moored to the sub work near by, and the gallant vessels and their noble crews were under way! As they moved swiftly down, propelled by steam and tide, the sailors on board the North Carolina manned the yards and sent up cheer after cheer, in which those on the wharves frequently joined The crews of the departing vessels replied with cheer upon cheer till their voices were lost in the distance As they passed down the bay they attracted great attention, and the heartiest wishes for success in the noble undertaking, and a safe and speedy return to all, were expressed on every side

These vessels have been fitted out with all the care and skill that experience and science could command Their strength has been largely increased, and every arrangement has been made to secure the comfort of those on board during a long and intensely cold winter within the Arctic Circle We annex a list of their officers

Officers of the Bark Release—Henry J Hartstein Lieutenant-Commandant William L Lovell Acting Master Joseph P Fyffe Acting Midshipman—Esek K Kane, Assistant Surgeon—Van Rensselaer Hall, Boatswain, Officers of the Propeller Arctic—Charles C Simms, Lieutenant Commanding, Watson Smith Acting Master, Herman Newell Engineer; Samuel Whiting Acting Boatswain.

On Monday H Grinnell, Esq, presented the officers of the expedition with a set of maps, charts and notes of the Arctic discoveries up to 1853, which he had received by the last steamer from Captain Inglefield, and John Barrow, Secretary of the British Admiralty The following is the note from the Secretary of the Admiralty to Mr Grinnell

I almost fear the expedition will have sailed before this reaches you, but I send the enclosed on the chance. One is the chart on which Captain Inglefield has made some notes which may be useful—the other is the Arctic papers, which contain the brief summary of his voyage up to Smith's Sound, which I have not previously sent I think I wish I knew in what other way I could be of any service to the expedition Wishing them all the success they deserve, and that they may return with Dr Kane and his party in the Autumn, I remain yours faithfully

At the request of Lady Franklin, who was unable to have a suitable tablet prepared in England to send out by this expedition, Mr Grinnell has caused the following inscription to be engraved on a handsome tablet of white marble, 2 feet 3 inches by 5 feet, which will be erected on Beechy Island

FRANKLIN, CROZIER, FITZJAMES,
And all their gallant brother officers and faithful companions, who have suffered and perished
in the cause of Science and the service of their country.
THIS TABLET
is erected near the spot where they passed their first Arctic Winter, and whence they issued forth to conquer difficulties or to die [illegible]
commemorates the grief of their admiring countrymen and friends and the anguish, subdued by faith, of her who has lost in the fearless leader of the expedition the most devoted and affectionate of husbands
And so the Icergoth threw onto the haven where they moored
1855

The stone has been entrusted to be affixed in its place by the officers and crew of the American Expedition, commanded by Lieut H J Hartstein, in search of Dr. Kane and his companions.

☞ We have had a [illegible] rain here the last week, it having rained nearly all the time for three days for which every man in Rock Co, should feel grateful, for never since we have lived in the State, do we recollect of a time when rain was so much needed—Rock Co. Republic

☞ Mr. Nash's new steamer was towed over to Fond du Lac yesterday, for the purpose of having her boilers placed on board She will return in a day or two, and her owners intends to have her finished, and ready to commence her regular trips by the first of July.— [Oshkosh Democrat.

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT—June 5th.

BEFORE OLINTON WALWORTH, ESQ. POLICE J TICE

A warrant was issued against Johan G Heisler for an assault and battery upon his wife.

Concert on Thursday.

Our readers will be glad to hear that the unrivalled Parodi is to give a Concert in this city to morrow (Thursday) evening, in which she will introduce some of the finest gems of the Modern Opera Those who had the pleasure of hearing Parodi, three years ago will need no other inducement than the recollection of that Concert, to go again to-morrow To others a brief sketch of Parodi may not be uninteresting

She has but lately returned from Europe, after a successful tour, is only twenty-eight years of age, and in the full ripeness of her wonderful powers and cannot fail to enchant all who come within the influence of her vocal action

Parodi was born in Genoa, of humble but respectable parents, who were but recently still living In early life she gave evidence of possessing vocal powers of a very rare order and sought instruction of the celebrated Pasta, then already retired from a career which few singers have equalled That famous vocalist, the Queen of Song" at once became highly interested in and warmly attached to her young pupil, whose future eminence she foresaw and predicted The qualities of the young Parodi's voice resembled closely those of her renowned teacher, and here was also a striking similarity in their personal appearance After twelve months of application to her studies, under such preceptorship, Parodi had made such progress in the acquisition of the higher principles of the noble art, that Madame Pasta gave her dismissal, assuring her that she possessed a voice that was calculated to raise her to the highest position in the sphere which had been marked out for her, and encourage the young adventurer by the kindest expressions — Her first appearance in Italian Opera was at Bergamo, during an annual fair, and there her success was such as at once to create the greatest enthusiasm throughout Italy From Bergamo she went by invitation, to Verona and her former triumph was confirmed, and the fame of the new singer spread still further and created still higher interest among the dilletanti of that country, famous for its appreciation and culture of music

From Italy she went to Paris and London, where her fame had preceded her and she here performances justified that fame

She will be assisted on this occasion by Madame Patti Strakosch of whom many of our readers must entertain agreeable recollections, by new baritone singer, M Leonard, and by Maurice Strakosch, of whose qualities as a Pianist we need not speak.

Mrs Macready—Last Night—Mrs. Macready will give one more and positively the last of the Dramatic Entertainments at Young's Hall this evening, introducing an entire new programme and selections from favorite plays. She will be assisted by Madame Jaconi and Mons Marachal, both excellent vocalists—Those who fail to be present this evening will miss a rare treat, such as is seldom indeed offered to our citizens We hope that Mrs Macready who is a most deserving and delightful artist, will be greeted to-night by a full house.

Fine Fleeces—We have received from Mr. E M Danforth, of Summit, Waukesha Co, two handsome fleeces of wool, recently sheared from sheep, belonging to flocks advertised by him as from the flocks of G. Campbell of Vermont. One of them is pure Spanish, bred by Mr Campbell—the other Silesian, imported by him Mr Danforth states that he has 150 fleeces from his flock of ewes, which will average well up to the Spanish, in quality He will have about 2000 lbs of wool for sale, and think that buyers are not likely to find a better lot in the State

The Prisoners for Waupun—Sheriff Conover left yesterday morning for Waupun having in his custody, for delivery at the State Prison, eight prisoners sentenced at the last term of Court Three prisoners were discharged from the jail yesterday morning, leaving in jail at noon yesterday but twelve prisoners, this is the least number that has been in jail within two and a half years

Firemen's Parade.—The Annual Parad and Inspection of our Milwaukee Fire Department—the ornament and defence of our City—takes place this afternoon The line will be formed on Wisconsin Street at half past 1 o'clock, when they will be reviewed by the Mayor & Common Council. Some of the Companies will appear in brand new rig and altogether the show will be a handsome one After the Review we suppose that the several Companies will, as usual, try their hands at sporting

Lost Child—A little girl, between six and seven years of age, rather poorly dressed and calling herself Laura Lyons, or Lines, was found in the Fifth Ward, yesterday afternoon and kindly cared for by Henry Kroeger, the Ice-man. She states that she lives "in the country," and goes to the "English School" there She may be found at Kroeger's in the Fifth Ward

Cricket—The weekly meeting of the Milwaukee Cricket Club for practice takes place this afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Officers are to be chosen for the year All persons desirous of joining the Club are invited to be present on the field during the afternoon

Directories—The new book of 'Doesticks' is advertised with us to day. We observe that Mr Thompson, the writer of these singular sketches of men and things, denies, over his own signature, that he is dead

Change of Time—A change of hours on the Milwaukee & Mississippi Railroad, will be noticed in the advertisement, as well as the connections and fare through from Madison and Janesville to Chicago The travel is increasing very rapidly on this road

Pic Nic.—The children of the German Free School, in the Second Ward, were treated to a pic nic, yesterday afternoon, in the pleasure grounds near Dr Wendell's residence, in the Fifth Ward. They marched down, preceded by a band of music, between one and two o'clock and had doubtless had a pleasant time.

Quincy Trip Yet—The propeller Fox City Capt Harvey Pierce, arrived yesterday at about noon from Buffalo, with a full cargo of merchandize, having made the round trip from this port to Buffalo and back, in ten and a half days! She carried down a full cargo of flour, and of course her running time is less by her time occupied in discharging and loading car. Capt Pierce, however, astonished the Buffalonians by his expedition in these operations

Prop Niagara—The prop Niagara which lay in Presque Isle Bay on the rocks all winter, came in from Buffalo yesterday, and landed some 200 tons merchandize She has been thoroughly refitted, and newly painted, and looks "as neat as a new pin."

For Green Bay—The steamer Clevela d, Capt Greene, will leave our port for Green Bay, touching at Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers, this (Wednesday) evening, from Kellogg & Strong's Pier

Theatre.—Lyne & Van Liew's Variet[illegible] does not open to-night, as has been announced. The opening is necessarily postponed till Saturday evening

A Good House for Sale—The well known horse Pat is to be sold at auction by Crampton, to-morrow

Big Prices.—Three loads of wheat bought at milling this morning, brought $1,55 per bush[illegible] —[Madison Dem. June 4.

Small Meanness.—Both the Milwaukee and Kenosha papers, in speaking of the guests at the Railroad opening, mention the names of all the prominent guests save that of our Mayor, Good Western Mr Western was as, perhaps too much of a gentleman to be understood or appreciated by the reporters of the papers concerned but even the respect due the city of Racine might have had weight enough to dictate a different line of conduct Wealth and station usually have some weight with such men but in this case their hatred of dutchmen is stronger than their love of toadyism —[Racine Democrat.

We mentioned that several of the city officers," and some of the leading citizens naming one or two with whom we were personally acquainted took passage with us at Racine We don't know Mr Western"—never heard of Mr, Western"—and nobody who possesses common sense could suppose that any disrespect was intended to the gentleman It would be quite fair to retort upon our courteous neighbor that A's love of 'dutchmen' is stronger than his love of decency

Famine in Lower Canada—The editor of the Montreal Commercial Advertiser, has been shown letters from ministers and others, both in the eastern and western town ships which discribed the amount of want existing among all classes, from scarcity of breadstuffs as frightful in the extreme In some parts scurvy has made its appearance

The Legion in Virginia—Many high minded and conservative whigs voted for Mr Wise in the late election to express their deep and hearty disapprobation of oath bound secret political societies They would gladly have joined in any open and honorable movement against the junto at Richmond which has so long ruled Virginia, nor could they have had much respect for the political or personal character of Mr Wise — They found themselves in a position which required them to vote for a democrat, or to sanction a movement hostile alike to personal and religious liberty. and they sacrificed a private feeling at the call of public duty A letter received by us from Virginia previous to the election, prepared us for it, and the result has confirmed its predictions —[Boston Atlas

Destructive Frost —The severe frosts of Saturday and Sunday nights extend d west as far as Rockford, and south over one hundred miles In Southern Wisconsin and No thern Illinois no serious damage was done to the corn or wheat — The corn was cut down but as it was only a short distance above ground will grow up again, while wheat was not headed out, and therefore not sufficiently advanced to be in danger But vegetables, especially of the melon species were entirely ruined In Northern Indiana, and fifty or sixty miles south of this where corn was more advanced than hereabout and where winter wheat was headed out, we fear the effects of the frost will be very serious. We have known wheat badly wilted, and apparently ruined by June frost and yet turn out well—but corn after it has jointed cannot recover from the effects of a severe frost, such as visited us on Saturday and Sunday nights —[Chicago Tribune of yesterday

Sugar River Valley R R —The charter members of the Sugar River Rail Road met at Attica May 26th They hold another meeting at Albany on the 21st instant when the Stock Books will be opened and it is expected a sufficient amount of stock will be taken to enable the company to organize permanently

The Sugar River Valley in point of beauty and fertility is not surpassed by any valley in the State — The Sugar River is one of the best mill streams in the west, having now in operation seven flouring mills between its source and the contemplated crossing of the S W R R a distance of about thirty miles

The Sugar River Valley Rail Road when completed will secure to the Southern Wisconsin Road and to Milwaukee, the business of this valley, which now finds its way to Chicago over the Beloit and Madison Jn Road W —[Janesville Free Press

How He Felt—During the last trip of the steamer Mediator from Omcomah, one of the deck hands fell overboard in the Mississippi but by swimming and floating kept himself above water till the yawl reached him On regaining the boat one of the passengers asked him "Well, Pat how did you feel while you were struggling for life in the river?" Divil a thing did I feel or wish for all unless indeed it was that getting so wet outside made me mighty dry within, and that it was the likes of yourself I'd like to ask for the whiskey to mix with the water bad luck to it that went down my throat The passenger laughed. Pat got his half dollar for the reply, and half an hour after was seen carrying from the bar a considerable sized tin cup, the odor proceeding from which partook strongly of Red Eye —[St Louis Dem

The Crops —We hear from all sections of this State that the grain crops are most promising The recent plentiful rains which have extended from Galena to the southern extremity, were most timely as they were much needed Along the route of the Chicago and Burlington Rail road, the wheat is most luxuriant, and the prospects of a large harvest most flattering Corn too looks well, though the season is rather late It is estimated that a fourth more land has been sown than to any former year

We also learn that the prospects of the wheat and corn crops were never better in Iowa The large accession to the population last year have borne producers, and the surplus this year will be heavy.—[Chicago Democrat, June 5

Comfort for the President—The Missouri Democrat complements the President after the following fashion

Gen Jackson said that he would hang Mr Calhoun if an overt act of treason was committed by the South Carolina nullifiers The Missouri nullifiers, under the lead of Mr Atchison, have committed an act of treason by trampling on the laws of the United States, and by actually "waging war" against the United States authorities in Kansas, by invading and subjugating that Territory. General Pierce, instead of doing what Gen, Jackson would have done under the circumstances, has only fainted

First Madison Regatta—We learn that arrangements are about completed for a Regatta on Third Lake, to take place on the coming Fourth of July Some twenty boats are already entered for the prize Several handsome stakes are up, and brisk competition for them may be expected. A good time generally is anticipated The official announcement of particulars will be made in a few days —[Madison Democrat

All Right—From "prospecting parties" who have just returned from Jackson, Monroe, Buffalo, and other counties east, and north, we learn that new Settlers are spotting about in all directions, and what is equally gratifying large numbers of young men from the east, are on the ground, selecting most desirable and beautiful farm sites for their future homes There is no mistake, that with young men from New England, our Section of Wisconsin is an especial favorite —[La Crosse Democrat, May 30th

Business of the City —We have never seen business of all kinds, except the grain and pork trade, so active as it is now. Our merchants have all brought on heavy stocks of goods The whole country has learned this from the Free Press, and our streets are thronged with teams, and our merchants with customers — Our city is full of strangers from the East, looking for residences, which of course hard to obtain Every body is busy, and trade is active —[Janesville Free Press.

La Crosse & Milwaukee Railroad—A public meeting was held at Beaver Dam, on Wednesday last, to take into consideration the extension of the Milwaukee & La Crosse Railroad to Noyes' Corner and Beaver Dam, the coming fall. The meeting was ably addressed by Dr Judd and Mr Chapman, when it was resolved to adjourn, to meet again at the same place, on Saturday afternoon, June 3d, at 2 o'clock —Fox Lake Times

More of it—Hon W J Gibson, and Hon C A. Stevens arrived in La Crosse, direct from Madison, on Saturday On their way hither, they say they counted one hundred and seven Emigrant teams headed this way, between Baraboo and Sparta, and fifty-six this side of Sparta What's coming beyond, we have no evidence to guess upon, but the line stretches across the State—something of a way!—La Crosse Democrat, May 30th

Distressed Arrival—We have had heavy and most acceptable rains during the past week, but on Saturday evening last, J Frost, Esq., who left town a short time ago, returned just in time to "take a nip" at all green things He nipped pretty much everything in our garden, except an old wheelbarrow that stood near the house, in the shade —[Waukesha Plaindealer, June 4

Marriage Extraordinary—Tom Thumb, the celebrated little great man, was married on Thursday last to a Miss Vinton, of Bridgeport Conn —[Providence Post.

Cattle in Jefferson County N Y —A correspondent of the Rome N Y Sentinel, writing from Watertown, under date of May 28th, says.

The farmers hereabouts look sad and hopeless with regard to the prospects of the next harvest After three years of unprecedented drought, they had hoped for a productive season Present prospects are decidedly discouraging The earth is parched and baked thus early, and the spring crops thus far look unpromising There is this year a fearful amount of emigration to the West, and unless better success attends the labors of the coming summer, an immense emigration may be anticipated for 1856.

The Storm—Vessels Wrecked—Lives Lost —The storm of last week proves to have been disastrous at this end of the lake. The only wreck which occasioned loss of life was that of the schooner Experiment, which capsized on Friday night near St Joseph, to which place she was going after a cargo The vessel turned bottom upward and Capt Jennings, her master and two sailors named Lew Livingston and P Bratton were washed overboard and lost

The wife of Capt. Judson W Napier, his son about fourteen years old, another child, about a year old, and a miller named Prosser, were in the cabin The three persons managed to keep their heads above the water in the cabin by clinging to the berths but the child was drowned.

They were in this situation sixteen hours, during which time the vessel drifted ashore near St Joseph and Capt Scott, of the schooner Sutherland with other want to the wreck and hearing voices in it cut a hole through the planking, and rescued the party of survivors — The Experiment was owned by J E Stevens, of St Joseph,—[Chicago Dem. Halifax, June 5

The Royal Mail Steamer Africa arrived at 4 o'clock this P M with one week's later intelligence She was off the Harbor yesterday but was unable to enter on account of thick weather. The Armies in the Crimea are now well supplied with luxuries as well as necessaries, but some fever and cholera still prevails.
On May 10th, a severe combat took place during the night along the right attack. The affair lasted an hour and a half, when the Russians retired. Loss considerable on both sides—Night attacks also made on the nights of the 11th and 12th, by the Russians On both occasions were gallantly repulsed

Washington, June 5th.
The Union of this morning publishes the instructions given to Com. Mcauley. They speak of the firing at the Eldorado as the exercise of a right, but the visit and search will not be tolerated by the United States, and if approved of by the Spanish authorities it is likely to disturb the friendly relations existing between the two governments. They direct that if any officer in command of a ship is interfered with, he will promptly repel the interfering by force
